OUR CROP OUTLOOK

PROF. C. H. BELTING SAYS CONDITIONS ARE NOT SO BAD.

PLANT 90-DAY CORN

Agriculture Teacher Also Recommends Profitable Crops to Replace the Corn on Lowlands.

In spite of the recent storms which damaged the crops in many parts of the county, the outlook for the 1917 harvest is not so bad as it was painted, according to Prof. C. H. Belting of the Department of Agriculture at the State Normal school. Professor Belting has traveled over much of the flooded area and has found conditions fair considering the heavy rainfall and violent storms.

The corn crop on the uplands, according to Mr. Belting, is in fair shape. On the slopes a great deal of washing has been done, but if the farmers will cultivate at once they may be able to save the whole crop. The corn already up stood the storms much better than the seed in the ground which rotted.

Much of the lowland will have to be replanted, and Mr. Belting says that it is almost too late to plant the ordinary varieties of corn. If any farmers plan to re-seed their lowlands, they had better choose a 90-day variety, which has the best chance to mature. Mr. Belting recommends farmers who are not sure what kind to plant to write to J. C. Hackleman of the College of Agriculture, Columbia. Mr. Hackleman will send the names of men in Minnesota and Wisconsin who sell this seed, and he will also advise as to the kinds best suited for Nodaway county.

If the farmers don't care to try the corn again many other crops may be substituted. Among these are: the grain sorghums, kaffir, milo, feterita, and millet, and also soy beans. Cow peas for forage and soup beans are also profitable crops.

Aside from the damage done to the corn, Prof. Belting says that the crops are in fine condition. The oats look good and the fields of wheat that he saw were showing a splendid growth. The gardens are more numerous and better than ever before and potato patches are everywhere in evidence.

A BOND ELECTION

PETITION SIGNED BY 100 TAX PAYERS FIRST REQUIRED.

THEN PEOPLE VOTE ON IT

County Court Will Repair Bridges Only As Far As Funds Go, If No Bonds Are Issued.

If Nodaway county people want the bridges damaged by the recent rains repaired with money furnished by a bond issue, it is necessary to present a petition to the county court signed by 100 tax payers of the county. Then the judges of the county court are required by law to submit the proposition to the people and to find out by vote whether or not they are in favor of a bond issue.

In the petition the amount of the bond issue and the purpose of such an issue must be plainly stated and also the terms under which it is desired, that the bonds be issued.

When the matter of a bond issue is submitted to the people it requires a two-thirds vote to have it carry. The next step then is to sell the bonds. In the opinion of many, the selling of the bonds would be an easy matter if the bond issue would carry.

If the expense of repairing the bridges is not met by a bond issue, it is the intention of the county court to carry on the repair work only as far as the money received from coming December taxes will go after the $18,718.03 deficit is taken out. There will be about $17,000 left to spend on the bridges, from the $35,000 collections of December.

This will mean that the anticipated fund for next year's bridges will be spent this year.

The court has decided to use this money to fix the bridges of the county that accommodate the most people, such as the bridge at the pumping station over the 102 river, one of the bridges at Quitman and others of like importance. It is planned to keep one good road open to each community in the county. The court will absolutely refuse to go in debt for any part of the bridge building beyond the December taxes.

It is necessary that the wishes of the people be made known at once to the court as the calling of an election and other technicalities would take a lot of time and the bridge problem must be dealt with immediately in order to insure safe and convenient travel between all of the towns in the county.

HAINES STORE WRITE-UP

Merchants' Trade Journal Devotes Three Pages to History of Maryville's Cash Store.

A three-page article giving the history of the Haines Dry Goods store is one of the features of this month's Merchants Trade Journal, published at Des Moines, Ia. The article is entitled, "How Haines Made His Cash Dry Goods Business Increase in Leaps and Bounds," and gives the business methods which has made the store one of the successful business houses of Maryville.

Mr. Haines tells of his decision to run the store on a strictly cash basis, and of the difficulties that first stood in the way of carrying out his purpose. He then tells how the use of the name, "The Haines Bunch," in advertising brought great returns in trade from all over the county.

Mr. Haines attributes most of his success to his daily advertising through every medium possible. He not only uses the newspapers but also billboard signs in his effort to reach the people. He tells in detail of his successful style show put on last spring, and of a sale held by the "Bunch without the boss," which netted the store a good round sum. The school of salesmanship conducted every Monday night by Mr. Haines is also described.

The article has a number of pictures with it, among them a full-page advertisement appearing in the Democrat-Forum at the time of one of the big sales, and another of an overflow crowd attending the first anniversary sale at the Haines store.

REMAIN IN SCHOOL

COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION URGES PUPILS TO PURSUE WORK.

COUNTRY NEEDS THEM

If War Lasts Long the U. S. Will Need All Its Trained Men and Women.

An urgent appeal to pupils to remain in high school next fall as a patriotic duty has been issued by Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education. Dr. Claxton points out that there are in the high schools of the United States this year more than one and one-half millions of boys and girls, and somewhat more than 200,000 of them will graduate this month and next. In an ordinary year 90,000 or more of these would next fall enter college, normal school or technical school to be prepared for such service to society, State and Nation as can be rendered only by those who have received education beyond that which the high schools can give. He says, "Many college presidents and others fear that on account of our entrance into the war few boys and girls will enter college next fall and that the total college attendance will be very small. The number ought, however, to be much larger than usual.

Mature Men Needed.

"The more mature young men are, the more serviceable they are in the army. The selective draft will take only those between twenty-one and thirty. In the total of 60,000,000 people of productive age in the United States the 350,000 students in colleges and normal schools and technical and vocational schools of high grade constitute only about one-half of one per cent. More than half of these live in cities and cannot be employed in agricultural production except as a few of them may find work on the farms during the summer. Their going to college will not lower the productive capacity of the country as a whole in any appreciable degree. The colleges, normal schools, and technical schools will all be open with undiminished income from public funds and endowments, and the expense of their maintenance will continue. It is quite probable that many of the older students will not return next fall and the higher classes will be smaller than usual. The graduates from the High schools should see to it that the lower classes more than make up for this deficiency.

Is A Patriotic Duty.

"This appeal is made on the basis of patriotic duty. If the war should be long the country will need all the trained men and women it can get—many more than it now has. There will be men in abundance to fight in the trenches but there will be a dearth of officers, engineers, and men of scientific knowledge and skill in all the industries, in transportation, and in many other places where skill and daring are just as necessary for success as in the trenches. The first call of the allies is for 12,000 engineers and skilled men to repair the railroads of France and England; and other thousands will be needed later. Russia will probably want thousands of men to repair and build her railroads. The increase in transportation and the tax on our own roads will call for large numbers of men of the same kind. New industrial plants, shipyards, and our armies abroad will call for highly trained men beyond all possible supply unless our colleges and technical schools remain open and increase their attendance and output.

When War Is Over.

"When war is over there will be made upon us such demands for men and women of knowledge and training as have never before come to any country. There will be equal need for a much higher average of general intelligence for citizenship than has been necessary until now. The world will have to be rebuilt and American college men and women must assume a large part of the task. In all international affairs we must play a more important part than we have in the past. For years we must feed our own industrial population and a large part of the population of Western and Central Europe. We must readjust our industrial and social and civic life and institutions. We must extend our foreign commerce. We must increase our production to pay our large war debts and to carry on all the enterprises for the general welfare which have been begun but many of which will be retarded as the war continues. China, and Russia with their new democracies and their new developments which will come as a result will need and ask our help in many ways.

Must Help Other Countries.

England, France, Italy, and the Central Powers will all be going through a process of reconstruction and we should be ready to give them generously every possible help. Their colleges and universities are now almost empty. Their older students, their recent graduates, and their younger professors are fighting and dying in the trenches, or are already dead; as are many of their older scientific and literary men, artists, and others whose work is necessary for the enlargement of the cultural and spiritual life and for all that makes for higher civilization. For many years after the war is over some of these countries will be unable to support their colleges and universities as they have supported them in the past. America must come to the rescue. We must be ready to assume all the responsibilities and perform thoroughly and well all the duties that will come to us in the new and more closely related world which will rise out of the ruins of the old world which is now passing away in the destruction of the war. To what extent and how well we may be able to do this will depend upon you young men and women who are this year graduating from our high schools and upon those who will follow in the next few years to a larger degree than up on any other like number of people."

MORE LETTUCE.

I ate a plate of lettuce. It was foxy, fair and fine.
And was wilted, too, just right to suit my taste, and I sat me down at table with a glad and winsome smile, saying, "None of this shall ever go to waste."

With some lettuce on my platter and a forkful in my mouth conversation took a swift and sudden slump.
Yea verily, that cook of mine is something in her line.
But lettuce is the place she plays the trump.

Of course, some other dishes sometimes tempt my appetite, and to some of them I lose a willing heart. And I sometimes tell the women that they cook fit for a king, which at least is very gallant on my part.

Why do I love my lettuce? Since you ask me, let me say, It came not to me by passing paltry pelf. But, it came right from my garden while the dew was on the leaf. Yea I raised this tender herbage all myself.

—Carl Wray, (Guilford).

TO HELP YOUNG GIRLS

A Mother Wants Her Letter Published.

Eaton, Ill.—"I wish you would publish this letter for the benefit of young girls. My daughter suffered greatly from female trouble with cramps, and headache, and backache most of the time. She never felt like working and it seemed as though she was sick all the time. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has helped her in every way, in fact it has really cured her, for she no longer has periodic pains, and no more headaches or backache, and I want all young girls who suffer as she did to know about it."—Mrs. ALMA MILLS, Eaton, Ill.

Another Girl's Experience.

New Castle, Ind.—"From the time I was eleven years old until I was seventeen I suffered each month so I had to be in bed. I had headache, backache and such pains I would cramp double every month. I did not know what it was to be easy a minute. My health was all run down and the doctors did not do me any good. A neighbor told my mother about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it, and now I feel like a new person. I don't suffer any more and I am regular every month."—Mrs. HAZEL HAMILTON, 822 South 15th St., Newcastle, Ind.

Girls who are troubled as these young women were, should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

FOOD WASTED FOR LIQUOR

112 Million Bushels of Cereals Were Used in Manufacture of Alcohol in Year.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Columbia, Mo., June 11.—"Statistics taken from the report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue for 1916 show that during the year 112 1-3 million bushels of cereals were used in the manufacture of alcoholic beverages. These were divided as follows: 62 million bushels or practically one-third of the total crop of barley, 2 million bushels of rice, 45 million bushels of corn, 3 million bushels of rye, 3½ thousand bushels of wheat and 10 thousand bushels of oats (fractions omitted). In addition to this, 418 million pounds of grapes are used, and 132 million pounds of molasses which is six times the amount used for all other purposes combined. 'If we omit wheat, oats, barley, and other materials, we find that a total of 3,603,911,916 pounds of grain and molasses are made into alcoholic beverages every single year,' Dr. M. P. Ravenel of the department of preventive medicine of the University of Missouri cites.

"All of these are valuable foodstuffs, most of them for man, but all of them for man or for animals. Is this not well worth saving during the period of war?

"In addition to this, it is well known that alcohol lessens efficiency and has a most injurious effect on accuracy. By all means let us insist on national prohibition at least during the period of war."

A marriage license was issued by Recorder Baker to Harry H. Hazzard of Winner, S. D., and Nellie I. Beardsley of Parnell.

Don't Cease Buying.

The wave of patriotism sweeping over the country should not seize upon parsimonious economy as a means of expression. There is no need for people to cease purchasing. There is need only for the elimination of extravagances and waste.

"As patriots it is our duty to stop the wastage of food; as patriots it is equally important that we do not stop the ordinary purchasing on which the business and the industry of the country are founded Hysterical economy is as much a menace to the nation as is prodigal waste.

"Faith is the great need of the people today — faith in providence to lend might to our right; faith in nature to respond bountifully to the wonderful efforts of our agriculturists to increase the food supply, to provide a surplus for our Allies, and faith in our government which has taken hold of the problems before it in a way that demonstrated that it is deserving of our faith.

"Be confident and live your normal lives as far as possible. Make business proceed as usual."—Exchange.

State Capitol Nearly Complete.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Jefferson City, Mo., June 11— The State's new $3,500,000 capitol is nearly complete. The capitol building commission, however, has not decided when it will be accepted from the contractors. The building is unfurnished. The Forty-Ninth General Assembly empowered the commission to purchase light fixtures and office equipment from a fund of $300,000 and this will be done soon, it is thought.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Ray of Ravenwood visited in Maryville Sunday with relatives.

collar and flare cuffs. Body and sleeves silk lined, shirred top skirt with detached belt. Suitable for wearers of from fourteen to twenty years.

Method of Keeping the Hands In Condition

Keep on your washstand a bottle of vinegar and salad oil (two parts vinegar to one of oil), and after washing your hands and before drying shake the bottle and rub just a little of the mixture well into the skin. Then dry very thoroughly.

If the oil doesn't agree with your skin, use lanolin instead, applying the lanolin first and rubbing it well in and then rubbing in a little vinegar. Lanolin suits some skins better than the oil.

If you are going to do gardening and don't want your nails to get black, soap them well before beginning. The space under the nails being filled with soap, there is no room for dirt to go in.

When you have done working wash your hands in hot water, using good soap and plenty of fine sand with which to rub them. This treatment will very quickly remove all dirt.

Suggested Ways For Reducing Meat Bills

Reduce your meat bill. That is one of the steps in thrift advocated by the committee on utilization and economy, Kansas council of defense.

Here are suggestions, some of which may be put into practice, the committee believes, by every housekeeper:

Meat substitutes may be used, such as eggs, cheese, milk, peas, beans and nuts.

Do not buy meat until you have bought one pint of milk a day for each member of your family.

A dozen eggs are worth as much in the dietary as two pounds of meat.

Waste in meat, the committee points out, may occur in leaving the trimmings at the market, in throwing away fats that could be used in frying, shortening or soap making; in throwing away bones that could be used in making soup and in not using the leftovers.

Use Washing Soda Carefully.

Don't use washing soda, except in solution. Many women put a handful of soda into a pot before washing, and soda is too strong an alkali. That is what makes hands red. Two tablespoonfuls of soda are enough for a large tub of water. Make a solution, keep it in a jar and use a little at a time.

FRIENDSHIP.

Friendship is a stone which when it is flawed by heat or violence or accident may as well be broken at once, as it can never be trusted after. The more graceful and ornamental it was the more clearly do we discern the hopelessness of restoring it to its former state. Coarse stones, if they be fractured, may be cemented again, precious ones never.—Walter Savage Landor.

WILL AID ITS MEMBERS

Catholic Order of Forresters Create Fund to Protect Those Who Enlist.

The Catholic Order of Forresters will take care of any of its members who enlist in the army in case of emergency. This was decided at the meeting of the loyal order in Maryville yesterday. By a vote of the membership, it was decided to create an emergency fund to which the members will contribute each month and in case of accident to any of the members in war, the fund will be used, either for them or their families.

Ova Clawson of Barnard is the first member of the loyal Catholic Order of Forresters to enlist in the army.

The fraternal orders of the country have a clause which nullifies all death claims in case of war. The clause will not be in force for any persons excepting those who have joined since June 1.

MARYVILLE FEDS LOSE

Go Down to Defeat At Shenandoah by A 9-7 Score — Still Pitches Good Game.

The Maryville Federals suffered their second defeat of the season yesterday when they lost to Shenandoah by a score of 9-7. Reports from the game indicate that Still pitched a good game but was unable to win because of poor support from the rest of the team. Harry Scott, the manager, has not yet decided where the game will be played next Sunday.

Yesterday's line-up was as follows: Stephens, c; Still, p; Tilson, 1st base; Black, 2nd base; Vaughn, s. s.; Scott, 3rd base; Ferguson, lf.; Egley, cf.; and Bluel, rf.

The batteries of Shenandoah were McKee and Castle. Simmons and Wells, also well known in Maryville were playing with Shenandoah.

Attend Conn Funeral.

About forty members of the I. O. O. F. lodge of Ravenwood attended the funeral of Judge W. H. Conn, which was held at the First Baptist church yesterday. Judge Conn was one of the charter members of the Ravenwood organization.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Tracy and daughter, Thelma, visited yesterday in Bedford, Ia., with relatives.

Cream Succotash.

To a dozen large ears of sweet corn allow one quart of fresh lima beans or a cupful of dried ones, soaked till tender. Put beans of either sort to cook in boiling water and add a pinch of soda. While they are cooking score the corn along lines of grain; press out the pulp with back of knife. When beans are tender drain. In a saucepan put one tablespoonful of butter, one tablespoonful of flour. Stir well, add a large cupful of creamy milk. Stir till thick and smooth. Add the beans and corn pulp. Cook two minutes. Season with salt and pepper.

Light as Chaff

In Training.

The clergyman who officiated at the college girl's wedding recently christened her first baby.

"She is a girl of the most original and practical ideas," smiled the minister. "As a rule, babies fairly howl while they are being christened, but this one was as quiet as a lamb. Remarking on it later, I said to the mother:

"'Mrs. Douglass, I must congratulate you on the little one's behavior. I have christened several hundred babies, but I have never before christened one that behaved so well as yours.'

"'No wonder he behaved well,' the young mother replied complacently. 'His father and I, with a pail of water, have been practicing christening him for the past two weeks.'"—Country Gentleman.

Keeping His Health.

"Where's Three Fingered Sam?" asked the visitor at Crimson Gulch.

"Travelin' fur his health."

"Is he sick?"

"He isn't. He's got his health now. But the boys he was playin' cards with last night say that unless he travels he's goin' to be in the hospital. An' every time there's a prescription like that dealt out in a card game it's best fur a man as values his health to take it."

A Proved Remedy.

Mrs. Hix—I don't take any stock in these reported cures by the laying on of hands.

Mrs. Dix—Well, I do. I cured my little boy of the cigarette habit in that way.

OUR CROP OUTLOOK

PROF. C. H. BELTING SAYS CONDITIONS ARE NOT SO BAD.

PLANT 90-DAY CORN

Agriculture Teacher Also Recommends Profitable Crops to Replace the Corn on Lowlands.

In spite of the recent storms which damaged the crops in many parts of the county, the outlook for the 1917 harvest is not so bad as it was painted, according to Prof. C. H. Belting of the Department of Agriculture at the State Normal school. Professor Belting has traveled over much of the flooded area and has found conditions fair considering the heavy rainfall and violent storms.

The corn crop on the uplands, according to Mr. Belting, is in fair shape. On the slopes a great deal of washing has been done, but if the farmers will cultivate at once they may be able to save the whole crop. The corn already up stood the storms much better than the seed in the ground which rotted.

Much of the lowland will have to be replanted, and Mr. Belting says that it is almost too late to plant the ordinary varieties of corn. If any farmers plan to re-seed their lowlands, they had better choose a 90-day variety, which has the best chance to mature. Mr. Belting recommends farmers who are not sure what kind to plant to write to J. C. Hackleman of the College of Agriculture, Columbia. Mr. Hackleman will send the names of men in Minnesota and Wisconsin who sell this seed, and he will also advise as to the kinds best suited for Nodaway county.

If the farmers don't care to try the corn again many other crops may be substituted. Among these are: the grain sorghums, kaffir, milo, feterita, and millet, and also soy beans. Cow peas for forage and soup beans are also profitable crops.

Aside from the damage done to the corn, Prof. Belting says that the crops are in fine condition. The oats look good and the fields of wheat that he saw were showing a splendid growth. The gardens are more numerous and better than ever before and potato patches are everywhere in evidence.

A BOND ELECTION

PETITION SIGNED BY 100 TAX PAYERS FIRST REQUIRED.

THEN PEOPLE VOTE ON IT

County Court Will Repair Bridges Only As Far As Funds Go, If No Bonds Are Issued.

If Nodaway county people want the bridges damaged by the recent rains repaired with money furnished by a bond issue, it is necessary to present a petition to the county court signed by 100 tax payers of the county. Then the judges of the county court are required by law to submit the proposition to the people and to find out by vote whether or not they are in favor of a bond issue.

In the petition the amount of the bond issue and the purpose of such an issue must be plainly stated and also the terms under which it is desired, that the bonds be issued.

When the matter of a bond issue is submitted to the people it requires a two-thirds vote to have it carry. The next step then is to sell the bonds. In the opinion of many, the selling of the bonds would be an easy matter if the bond issue would carry.

If the expense of repairing the bridges is not met by a bond issue, it is the intention of the county court to carry on the repair work only as far as the money received from coming December taxes will go after the $18,718.06 deficit is taken out. There will be about $17,000 left to spend on the bridges, from the $35,000 collections of December.

This will mean that the anticipated fund for next year's bridges will be spent this year.

The court has decided to use this money to fix the bridges of the county that accommodate the most people, such as the bridge at the pumping station over the 102 river, one of the bridges at Quitman and others of like importance. It is planned to keep one good road open to each community in the county. The court will absolutely refuse to go in debt for any part of the bridge building beyond the December taxes.

It is necessary that the wishes of the people be made known at once to the court as the calling of an election and other technicalities would take a lot of time and the bridge problem must be dealt with immediately in order to insure safe and convenient travel between all of the towns in the county.

HAINES STORE WRITE-UP

Merchants' Trade Journal Devotes Three Pages to History of Maryville's Cash Store.

A three-page article giving the history of the Haines Dry Goods store is one of the features of this month's Merchants Trade Journal, published at Des Moines, Ia. The article is entitled, "How Haines Made His Cash Dry Goods Business Increase in Leaps and Bounds," and gives the business methods which has made the store one of the successful business houses of Maryville.

Mr. Haines tells of his decision to run the store on a strictly cash basis, and of the difficulties that first stood in the way of carrying out his purpose. He then tells how the use of the name, "The Haines Bunch," in advertising brought great returns in trade from all over the county.

Mr. Haines attributes most of his success to his daily advertising through every medium possible. He not only uses the newspapers but also billboard signs in his effort to reach the people. He tells in detail of his successful style show put on last spring, and of a sale held by the "Bunch without the boss," which netted the store a good round sum. The school of salesmanship conducted every Monday night by Mr. Haines is also described.

The article has a number of pictures with it, among them a full-page advertisement appearing in the Democrat-Forum at the time of one of the big sales, and another of an overflow crowd attending the first anniversary sale at the Haines store.

REMAIN IN SCHOOL

COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION URGES PUPILS TO PURSUE WORK.

COUNTRY NEEDS THEM

If War Lasts Long the U. S. Will Need All Its Trained Men and Women.

An urgent appeal to pupils to remain in high school next fall as a patriotic duty has been issued by Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education. Dr. Claxton points out that there are in the high schools of the United States this year more than one and one-half millions of boys and girls, and somewhat more than 200,000 of them will graduate this month and next. In an ordinary year 90,000 or more of these would next fall enter college, normal school or technical school to be prepared for such service to society, State and Nation as can be rendered only by those who have received education beyond that which the high schools can give. He says, "Many college presidents and others fear that on account of our entrance into the war few boys and girls will enter college next fall and that the total college attendance will be very small. The number ought, however, to be much larger than usual.

Mature Men Needed.

"The more mature young men are, the more serviceable they are in the army. The selective draft will take only those between twenty-one and thirty. In the total of 60,000,000 people of productive age in the United States the 350,000 students in colleges and normal schools and technical and vocational schools of high grade constitute only about one-half of one per cent. More than half of these live in cities and cannot be employed in agricultural production except as a few of them may find work on the farms during the summer. Their going to college will not lower the productive capacity of the country as a whole in any appreciable degree. The colleges, normal schools, and technical schools will all be open with undiminished income from public funds and endowments, and the expense of their maintenance will continue. It is quite probable that many of the older students will not return next fall and the higher classes will be smaller than usual. The graduates from the High schools should see to it that the lower classes more than make up for this deficiency.

Is A Patriotic Duty.

"This appeal is made on the basis of patriotic duty. If the war should be long the country will need all the trained men and women it can get—many more than it now has. There will be men in abundance to fight in the trenches but there will be a dearth of officers, engineers, and men of scientific knowledge and skill in all the industries, in transportation, and in many other places where skill and daring are just as necessary for success as in the trenches. The first call of the allies is for 12,000 engineers and skilled men to repair the railroads of France and England; and other thousands will be needed later. Russia will probably want thousands of men to repair and build her railroads. The increase in transportation and the tax on our own roads will call for large numbers of men of the same kind. New industrial plants, shipyards, and our armies abroad will call for highly trained men beyond all possible supply unless our colleges and technical schools remain open and increase their attendance and output.

When War Is Over.

"When war is over there will be made upon us such demands for men and women of knowledge and training as have never before come to any country. There will be equal need for a much higher average of general intelligence for citizenship than has been necessary until now. The world will have to be rebuilt and American college men and women must assume a large part of the task. In all international affairs we must play a more important part than we have in the past. For years we must feed our own industrial population and a large part of the population of Western and Central Europe. We must readjust our industrial and social and civic life and institutions. We must extend our foreign commerce. We must increase our production to pay our large war debts and to carry on all the enterprises for the general welfare which have been begun but many of which will be retarded as the war continues. China, and Russia with their new democracies and their new developments which will come as a result will need and ask our help in many ways.

Must Help Other Countries.

England, France, Italy, and the Central Powers will all be going through a process of reconstruction and we should be ready to give them generously every possible help. Their colleges and universities are now almost empty. Their older students, their recent graduates, and their younger professors are fighting and dying in the trenches, or are already dead; as are many of their older scientific and literary men, artists, and others whose work is necessary for the enlargement of the cultural and spiritual life and for all that makes for higher civilization. For many years after the war is over some of these countries will be unable to support their colleges and universities as they have supported them in the past. America must come to the rescue. We must be ready to assume all the responsibilities and perform thoroughly and well all the duties that will come to us in the new and more closely related world which will rise out of the ruins of the old world which is now passing away in the destruction of the war. To what extent and how well we may be able to do this will depend upon you young men and women who are this year graduating from our high schools and upon those who will follow in the next few years to a larger degree than up on any other like number of people."

MORE LETTUCE.

I ate a plate of lettuce. It was foxy, fair and fine. And was wilted, too, just right to suit my taste, and I sat me down at table with a glad and winsome smile, saying, "None of this shall ever go to waste."

With some lettuce on my platter and a forkful in my mouth conversation took a swift and sudden slump. Yea, verily, that cook of mine is something in her line. But lettuce is the place she plays the trump.

Of course, some other dishes sometimes tempt my appetite, and to some of them I lose a willing heart. And I sometimes tell the women that they cook fit for a king, which at least is very gallant on my part.

Why do I love my lettuce? Since you ask me, let me say, It came not to me by passing paltry pelf. But, it came right from my garden while the dew was on the leaf. Yea I raised this tender herbage all myself.

TO HELP YOUNG GIRLS

A Mother Wants Her Letter Published.

Eaton, Ill.—"I wish you would publish this letter for the benefit of young girls. My daughter suffered greatly from female trouble with cramps, and headache, and backache most of the time. She never felt like working and it seemed as though she was sick all the time. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has helped her in every way, in fact it has really cured her, for she no longer has periodic pains, and no more headaches or backache, and I want all young girls who suffer as she did to know about it." —Mrs. ALMA MILLS, Eaton, Ill.

Another Girl's Experience.

New Castle, Ind.—"From the time I was eleven years old until I was seventeen I suffered each month so I had to be in bed. I had headache, backache and such pains I would cramp double every month. I did not know what it was to be easy a minute. My health was all run down and the doctors did not do me any good. A neighbor told my mother about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it, and now I feel like a new person. I don't suffer any more and I am regular every month."—Mrs. HAZEL HAMILTON, 822 South 15th St., Newcastle, Ind.

Girls who are troubled as these young women were, should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

FOOD WASTED FOR LIQUOR

112 Million Bushels of Cereals Were Used in Manufacture of Alcohol in Year.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Columbia, Mo., June 11.—"Statistics taken from the report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue for 1916 show that during the year 112 1-3 million bushels of cereals were used in the manufacture of alcoholic beverages. These were divided as follows: 62 million bushels or practically one-third of the total crop of barley, 2 million bushels of rice, 45 million bushels of corn, 3 million bushels of rye, 3½ thousand bushels of wheat and 10 thousand bushels of oats (fractions omitted). In addition to this, 418 million pounds of grapes are used, and 132 million pounds of molasses which is six times the amount used for all other purposes combined. 'If we omit wheat, oats, barley, and other materials, we find that a total of 3,603,911,916 pounds of grain and molasses are made into alcoholic beverages every single year,' Dr. M. P. Ravenel of the department of preventive medicine of the University of Missouri cites.

"All of these are valuable foodstuffs, most of them for man, but all of them for man or for animals. Is this not well worth saving during the period of war?

"In addition to this, it is well known that alcohol lessens efficiency and has a most injurious effect on accuracy. By all means let us insist on national prohibition at least during the period of war."

A marriage license was issued by Recorder Baker to Harry H. Hazzard of Winner, S. D., and Nellie I. Beardsley of Parnell.

Don't Cease Buying.

"The wave of patriotism sweeping over the country should not seize upon parsimonious economy as a means of expression. There is no need for people to cease purchasing. There is need only for the elimination of extravagances and waste.

"As patriots it is our duty to stop the wastage of food; as patriots it is equally important that we do not stop the ordinary purchasing on which the business and the industry of the country are founded Hysterical economy is as much a menace to the nation as is prodigal waste.

"Faith is the great need of the people today — faith in providence to lend might to our right; faith in nature to respond bountifully to the wonderful efforts of our agriculturists to increase the food supply, to provide a surplus for our Allies, and faith in our government which has taken hold of the problems before it in a way that demonstrated that it is deserving of our faith.

"Be confident and live your normal lives as far as possible. Make business proceed as usual."—Exchange.

State Capitol Nearly Complete.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Jefferson City, Mo., June 11— The State's new $3,500,000 capitol is nearly complete. The capitol building commission, however, has not decided when it will be accepted from the contractors. The building is unfurnished. The Forty-Ninth General Assembly empowered the commission to purchase light fixtures and office equipment from a fund of $300,000 and this will be done soon, it is thought.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Ray of Ravenwood visited in Maryville Sunday with relatives.

collar and flare cuffs. Body and sleeves silk lined, shirred top skirt with detached belt. Suitable for wearers of from fourteen to twenty years.

Method of Keeping the Hands In Condition

Keep on your washstand a bottle of vinegar and salad oil (two parts vinegar to one of oil), and after washing your hands and before drying shake the bottle and rub just a little of the mixture well into the skin. Then dry very thoroughly.

If the oil doesn't agree with your skin, use lanolin instead, applying the lanolin first and rubbing it well in and then rubbing in a little vinegar. Lanolin suits some skins better than the oil.

If you are going to do gardening and don't want your nails to get black, soap them well before beginning. The space under the nails being filled with soap, there is no room for dirt to go in.

When you have done working wash your hands in hot water, using good soap and plenty of fine sand with which to rub them. This treatment will very quickly remove all dirt.

Suggested Ways For Reducing Meat Bills

Reduce your meat bill. That is one of the steps in thrift advocated by the committee on utilization and economy, Kansas council of defense.

Here are suggestions, some of which may be put into practice, the committee believes, by every housekeeper:

Meat substitutes may be used, such as eggs, cheese, milk, peas, beans and nuts.

Do not buy meat until you have bought one pint of milk a day for each member of your family.

A dozen eggs are worth as much in the dietary as two pounds of meat.

Waste in meat, the committee points out, may occur in leaving the trimmings at the market, in throwing away fats that could be used in frying, shortening or soap making; in throwing away bones that could be used in making soup and in not using the leftovers.

Use Washing Soda Carefully.

Don't use washing soda, except in solution. Many women put a handful of soda into a pot before washing, and soda is too strong an alkali. That is what makes hands red. Two tablespoonfuls of soda are enough for a large tub of water. Make a solution, keep it in a jar and use a little at a time.

FRIENDSHIP.

Friendship is a stone which when it is flawed by heat or violence or accident may as well be broken at once, as it can never be trusted after. The more graceful and ornamental it was the more clearly do we discern the hopelessness of restoring it to its former state. Coarse stones, if they be fractured, may be cemented again, precious ones never.—Walter Savage Landor.

Catholic Order of Forresters Create Fund to Protect Those Who Enlist.

The Catholic Order of Forresters will take care of any of its members who enlist in the army in case of emergency. This was decided at the meeting of the loyal order in Maryville yesterday. By a vote of the membership, it was decided to create an emergency fund to which the members will contribute each month and in case of accident to any of the members in war, the fund will be used, either for them or their families.

Ova Clawson of Barnard is the first member of the loyal Catholic Order of Forresters to enlist in the army.

MARYVILLE FEDS LOSE

The Maryville Federals suffered their second defeat of the season yesterday when they lost to Shenandoah by a score of 9-7. Reports from the game indicate that Still pitched a good game but was unable to win because of poor support from the rest of the team. Harry Scott, the manager, has not yet decided where the game will be played next Sunday.

Yesterday's line-up was as follows: Stephens, c; Still, p; Tilson, 1st base; Black, 2nd base; Vaughn, s. s.; Scott, 3rd base; Ferguson, lf.; Egley, cf.; and Bluel, rf.

The batteries of Shenandoah were McKee and Castle. Simmons and Wells, also well known in Maryville were playing with Shenandoah.

Cream Succotash.

To a dozen large ears of sweet corn allow one quart of fresh lima beans or a cupful of dried ones, soaked till tender. Put beans of either sort to cook in boiling water and add a pinch of soda. While they are cooking score the corn along lines of grain; press out the pulp with back of knife. When beans are tender drain. In a saucepan put one tablespoonful of butter, one tablespoonful of flour. Stir well, add a large cupful of creamy milk. Stir till thick and smooth. Add the beans and corn pulp. Cook two minutes. Season with salt and pepper.

In Training.

The clergyman who officiated at the college girl's wedding recently christened her first baby.

"She is a girl of the most original and practical ideas," smiled the minister. "As a rule, babies fairly howl while they are being christened, but this one was as quiet as a lamb. Remarking on it later, I said to the mother:

"'Mrs. Douglass, I must congratulate you on the little one's behavior. I have christened several hundred babies, but I have never before christened one that behaved so well as yours.'

"'No wonder he behaved well,' the young mother replied complacently. 'His father and I, with a pail of water, have been practicing christening him for the past two weeks.'"—Country Gentleman.

Keeping His Health.

"Where's Three Fingered Sam?" asked the visitor at Crimson Gulch.

"Travelin' fur his health."

"Is he sick?"

"He isn't. He's got his health now. But the boys he was playin' cards with last night say that unless he travels he's goin' to be in the hospital. An' every time there's a prescription like that dealt out in a card game it's best fur a man as values his health to take it."
